

Thompson Presents at the NECBC Energy, Trade and Technology Conference

November 17, 2016

BOSTON, MA - On November 16, 2017, Enviro Innovate Chairman and CEO, Tom Thompson, appeared as a panelist at the New England Canada Business Council's U.S. - Canada Energy Conference "How Best to Implement a Balanced Regional Energy Policy - Dealing with Climate, Energy Infrastructure, Supply and Economic Growth".

The session was effectively moderated Mr. Richard Kanoff, Partner, Energy Practice at Boston based Burns & Levinson, LLP. Other speakers joining Thompson included:

Peter Rothstein, President, New England Clean Energy Council

Joshua Paradise, Ambassador, Current by GE

Jon Norman, Vice President Business Development, Brookfield Renewable Partners

This was another opportunity for Enviro Innovate, on behalf of our international clean-tech accelerator, to continue to discuss the critical importance of international and cross-border collaboration in advancing research, and its significant societal benefit and impact. Enviro Innovate's focus on our cross-border collaboration with all of our partners, including Enviro Ambient, Queen's University, DuPont and GreenCentre Canada, continues to drive the development and commercialization of emerging companies and technologies, which benefits the economies of both Canada and the United States.